Minnesota Federal Bonding Program

Sometimes employers are reluctant to hire workers they view as risky, such as someone with a record of arrest, a history of drug or alcohol abuse, lack suitable employment history or other reasons. Bonding is no-cost employee insurance that protects employers against employee theft of money or property. Employers, not job seekers, apply for these bonds. However, it is useful for job seekers to know about the program, since they can bring the bonds to the attention of a potential employer.

MinnesotaWorks.net

MinnesotaWorks.net is the state's searchable online jobs database. View thousands of job listings from private employers statewide, upload a resume, apply for jobs online, manage and track job search efforts, and sign up for email notification of new job listings.

National Career Readiness Certificate (NCRC™)

The NCRC™ is a credential that helps jobseekers stand out in a competitive job market by showing employers they have the skills and motivation employers need. The exam highlights jobseekers' strongest, most marketable skills. It also identifies areas of improvement. The NCRC™ assessments are offered at no charge at select Minnesota WorkForce Centers.

Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP)

Provides part-time community service assignments for people 55 years or older who earn less than 125% of the federal poverty income guidelines. Community service assignments are used as training opportunities to gain unsubsidized employment.

Shared Work Program

Offers an alternative to layoffs for employers facing a temporary downturn in business. The program allows employers to divide available hours of work among a group of employees instead of implementing a full layoff. These employees may then receive partial unemployment insurance benefits while working reduced hours.

Veterans Services

Current or former military members, no matter era of service, receive priority services in all WorkForce Centers. Specially trained Veterans Employment Representatives assist veterans who have been discharged or left active duty in the last three years; have significant challenges finding or keeping a job; or have a service-connected disability.

Youth Services

A variety of programs are available to help youth who come from low-income families, have difficult barriers to employment, and are at the greatest risk of suffering serious setbacks in life without extra help and professional guidance. These programs are designed to help at-risk teens and young adults find jobs, build job skills, learn specific trades, and explore education, training, and career options.
